

PLAQUEMINES PARISH GUIDE & MAP

STAYLOCAL.ORG

The mouth of the Mississippi River draws hundreds of hunters, fishermen, birdwatchers, and photographers to Plaquemines Parish each year for world-class charter fishing in the Gulf of Mexico and the natural beauty of the expansive wetlands.

Although historic Fort Jackson, site of the Civil War Battle to capture New Orleans, is currently closed due to hurricane damage, you can still visit the nearby La Salle monument which commemorates the discovery of Louisiana in 1682 by the French explorer René-Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle.

The recently opened Louisiana Medal of Honor Park & Museum in Belle Chasse honors all American veterans. This site also hosts the Plaquemines Seafood Festival every summer and the Orange Festival in December, where locals and visitors alike can celebrate the culture and economy of Plaquemines Parish while listening to great music and enjoying delicious seafood and citrus. And don't miss the annual Buras Volunteer Fire Department's Oilfield Crawfish Boil-Off in the Spring.

There is no shortage of things to see and do in beautiful Plaquemines Parish.

VISION - Create a parish and region with a productive and expanding economy and tourism market where people are limited only by their dreams

MISSION - Help make Plaquemines Parish become the premier location in the Gulf South in which to live, work, play, visit, and do business
